SCHOOL VISION

Our vision is for our pupils to flourish in an inclusive, inspirational place of learning where we are happy, respectful, kind and safe.

At Holy Trinity Church of England Primary School our Christian vision shapes all we do.

"I know that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to do good while they live." Ecclesiastes 3:12.

- we facilitate opportunities so every child can flourish in a place where they feel safe, happy and confident.
- staff well-being and professional development is valued and supported in order to fulfil their roles, inspire others and experience personal fulfilment.
- the school provides facilities that enables our pupils to reach their potential in an optimum learning environment.
- the school plays a central role within our community and enjoys strong links with the church, local companies and other schools.
- we create a culture of vigilance to safeguard all children.

'I know that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to do good while they live.' Ecclesiastes 3:12

Purpose of this Policy

The Lord Chancellor's Code of Practice on the Management of Records under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, states:

"A school should have in place an overall policy statement, endorsed by top management and made readily available to staff at all levels of the organisation, on how it manages its records, including electronic records."

The school needs to create and maintain accurate records in order for it to function. The policy for managing records at Holy Trinity School has been drawn up in conformity with legislation, regulations affecting schools and best practice as publicised by the Records Management Society of Great Britain.

This policy sets out guidelines for recording, managing, storing and disposing of data, whether they are held on paper or electronically in order to assist staff, and the School, to comply with the Data Protection Act 1998 (DPA) and the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FIA). It should be read and used in conjunction with the following Trust and School policies:

- Data Protection Policy
- Information Security Policy
- Admissions Policy and Procedure

Members of staff are expected to manage their current record keeping systems using the Record Keeping and Retention Policy and to take account of the different kinds of retention periods when they are creating new record keeping systems.

Benefits of the Data Retention Policy

There are a number of benefits which arise from the use of a complete Retention Policy:

- Managing records against the Retention Policy is deemed to be "normal processing" under the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Freedom of Information Act 2000. Provided members of staff are managing record series using the Retention Policy they cannot be found guilty of unauthorised tampering with files once a freedom of information request or a data subject access request has been made.
- Members of staff can be confident about destroying information at the appropriate time.
- Information which is subject to Freedom of Information and Data Protection legislation will be available when required.
- The school is not maintaining and storing information unnecessarily.

It is important that all staff bear in mind, when creating documents and records of any sort (and particularly email), that at some point in the future those documents and records could be disclosed - whether as a result of litigation or investigation, or because of a subject access request under the DPA. The watchwords of record-keeping are therefore accuracy, clarity, professionalism and objectivity.

Current Pupils Pupil Records

A file is kept on each pupil in the lockable Pupil Record Cupboard located in the school office. The file holds the registration and acceptance form, (the parent contract) and any other hard copies of information about that pupil. It will also include references from previous schools. It will record any disciplinary sanctions imposed on a pupil.

'I know that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to do good while they live.' Ecclesiastes 3:12

The information held on the school's electronic database covers: the pupil's name, address, house, emergency contact details, medical information, academic performance, school reports and daily attendance. Confidentiality of personal information is protected in accordance with our Data Protection Policy.

Pupils with Special Educational, Welfare or Medical Needs

The names of pupils with special educational, welfare or medical needs are recorded and any special provision to be made for individual pupils are made available to those staff with a need to know that information.

Medical Records

A confidential medical record on each pupil is kept securely in the Medical Room. The medical record contains: the medical questionnaire that the parents completed when their child joined the school, and records of all treatment and immunisations that a pupil receives during his or her time at the school. They include any significant known drug reactions, major allergies and notable medical conditions. This information is available to staff likely to administer medication or treatment. The Catering Manager holds details of pupils with food allergies.

All pupils who have a more serious level of medical need (e.g. diabetes, anaphylaxis) have an individual Health Care Plan (HCP) which is put together by the parents/guardian with the GP's/consultant's instructions for care within school should the event arise. The HCPs are then kept on file in the medical Room and are displayed discretely in that child's classroom ensuring information is kept private. Some pupils have copies of their HCP or BCAS in their medical kit bags that they carry with them.

Staff are made aware of pupils in the school who have a medical condition and who is qualified to treat them.

Access by Staff

All teaching and office staff are able to access the pupil records held in the School Office on request. Access to medical records is restricted a 'need to know' basis.

Data Protection Policy

Parents accept a place for their child at Holy Trinity CE Primary School in the knowledge that data about pupils and their parents will be collected periodically and stored and processed in order to allow for the efficient operation of the school.

Parents who accept a place for their child at Holy Trinity CE Primary School are invited to agree to the school using anonymous photographs of their child and information relating to his or her achievements for promotional purposes, which may be published in the prospectus or on the web site.

Access by Parents and Pupils

Our Data Protection Policy describes its duties and obligations under the Data Protection Act, including parents' rights and the rights of pupils aged 12 or over to have access to their personal data. It also covers the circumstances under which data would be disclosed to a third party.

'I know that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to do good while they live.' Ecclesiastes 3:12

Fair Processing Notice

Holy Trinity CE Primary School will comply with a Fair Processing Notice legally issued by a public body or other authority that is a data controller and is subject to the same legal constraints regarding the manner in which it handles data.

Staff Induction

All new teaching and office staff will be given training on accessing and managing school records, as part of their induction into the school's local procedures for marking work, report-writing and record keeping.

Retention of Records Security

As a guiding principle, the DPA requires that personal data is only retained for as long as necessary - that is, necessary for the specific lawful purpose (or purposes) it was acquired.

Retention Periods

One consideration in whether it is necessary or desirable to keep records is possible future litigation. Ideally, therefore, records would not be disposed of until the limitation period for bringing a claim has passed. For most contracts that will mean 6 years from any breach (or 12 years in case of, say, a witnessed deed), but the date to start counting from is the last day of the period under contract. For pupils, limitation periods will only apply from the age of 18 years.

The period of 6 years also applies to many claims outside contract (such as fraud, mistake or negligence), while in the case of personal injury it is only 3 years. However, if the harm is only discovered later - e.g. 'latent' damage, or some unseen injury - then the timer only starts from the point of discovery: subject, in the case of latent property damage, to a 15- year backstop.

In some cases the prompt may be the end of a calendar year, so for the purpose of this policy a contingency has generally been built in (e.g. 7 years where the statutory limitation is 6 years). For this reason, we keep all records of past pupils until a pupil is 25 years old. At that point, we securely destroy all disciplinary and medical.

Limitation periods may be dis-applied altogether by courts in the case of certain crimes or associated breaches of care (e.g. historic abuse), whether a charge is brought by the police or a school is sued under a private claim. It is not always possible to try a case where the evidence is inadequate, including due to a lack of corporate memory (e.g. records and witnesses): but generally the courts and police will expect to see a record, and inferences may be drawn otherwise.

In many cases these records will comprise personal or sensitive personal data (e.g. health or criminal allegations): in which case, even justifiable reasons to keep records for many years will need to be weighed against personal rights. Historical high-profile cases in the field of child protection probably make a cautious approach to record retention advisable and, from a DPA perspective, easier for the School to justify retention for long periods. But the longer data is retained, and the more sensitive material is kept on file, the greater – and potentially more serious – the risk of security breach.

The table at the end of this policy provides guidance on retention periods for different records held by Holy Trinity CE Primary School.
'I know that there is nothing better for people than to be happy and to do good while they live.'* Ecclesiastes 3:12

Unless there is a specific statutory obligation to hold or destroy records, the retention periods are not prescriptive limits. Retention periods may be shorter or longer than the suggested document retention period, according to context.

Disposal of Documents

When information is no longer required, it can be disposed of. For confidential, sensitive or personal information to be considered securely disposed of, it must be in a condition where it cannot either be read or reconstructed. Skips and 'regular' waste disposal are not considered to be secure.

Paper records should be shredded using a cross-cutting shredder; CDs / DVDs / diskettes should be cut into pieces. Hard-copy images, AV recordings and hard disks should be dismantled and destroyed. Where third party disposal experts are used they should ideally be supervised but, in any event, under adequate contractual obligations to the school to process and dispose of the information securely. Whenever records are destroyed, staff should record at least:

- File reference (or other unique identifier)
- File title (or brief description)
- No of files
- The name of the authorising officer
- Date of destruction

This can be kept in an Excel spreadsheet or other database format.

Holy Trinity CE Primary School – Table of Data/Document Retention Periods

1. Child Protection

The retention and use of records relating to child protection matters concerning pupils, and child protection allegations against staff requires specific guidance in this schedule.

Basic file description	Data Protection Issues	Retention Period	Action at the end of the administrative life of the record
Safeguarding Policies and procedures	No	Permanent	ARCHIVE	Transfer to archive for retention when new policy implemented.
Child Protection files	Yes	only if child is on roll at the school. Send recorded delivery to new school when requests received.	SHRED	Child Protection information must be copied and sent under separate cover to new school/college whilst the child is still under 18 (i.e. the information does not need to be sent to a university, for example). Where a child is removed from roll to be educated at home, the file should be copied to the Local Education Authority. Limitation periods can be dis-applied in criminal and civil abuse cases; to be weighed against rights under the DPA and our insurers' requirements.
Allegation of a child protection nature against a member of staff, including where the allegation is unfounded	Yes	Until the person's normal retirement age, or 10 years from the date of the allegation if that's longer	SHRED	ICO Employment Practices Code: Supplementary Guidance 2.13.1 (Discipline, grievance and dismissal) "Records of allegations about workers who have been investigated and found to be without substance should not normally be retained once an investigation has been completed. There are some exceptions to this where for its own protection the employer has to keep a limited record that an allegation was received and investigated, for example, where the allegation relates to abuse and the worker is employed to work with children or other vulnerable individuals". Summary record to be retained on confidential personnel file, and a copy given to the person concerned.
